Project Overview

The Berkeley Cabin, California/USA

The Berkeley Cabin Image: © Gustave Carlson Design/Paul Dyer

This 1937 one-bedroom cabin was fully remodeled in 2012 to accommodate 21st century amenities without overpowering its original sense of character, charm and scale. Located on a wooded knoll and full of original woodcraft in the arts and crafts style, Gustave Carlson Design was tasked to maintain the original clear heart redwood paneling of the original cabin structure and during the renovations and addition of a Master Bedroom Suite and larger kitchen to accommodate a 3,000 square foot home.
